The Secretary's Award for Public-Philanthropic Partnerships

Housing and Community Development in Action

The U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development, in partnership with the Council on Foundations, announces the annual Secretary's Award for Public-Philanthropic Partnerships. The Secretary's Award for Public-Philanthropic Partnerships recognizes excellence in partnerships that have both transformed the relationship between the public and philanthropic sectors and led to measurable benefits in terms of increased economic employment, health, safety, education, disaster resilience, inclusivity and cultural opportunities, and/or housing access for low- and moderate-income families.

In 2022, charitable giving in the United States totaled approximately $499.33 billion, including $105.21 billion given by foundations (Giving USA, 2023). Not only do foundations provide valuable financial resources for nonprofit providers, but they also are led by a board of trustees and staff who provide expert knowledge of the challenges and opportunities faced by the communities they serve. These human resources facilitate the capacity of foundations to provide leadership on issues like housing and community development. By strengthening the connection between the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD) and philanthropy, this award highlights the power of collective impact that can be achieved through public-philanthropic partnerships between government entities and foundations.

Nature of the Award

This award emphasizes cross-sector partnerships between the philanthropic and public sectors. The goal is to recognize the partnership process and its impact as a community strategy to increase the quality of life for low- and moderate-income residents across all American geographies — urban, suburban, and rural. Governors, mayors, and tribal leaders may submit one nomination per jurisdiction. Recognizing that foundations of all sizes partner with the public sector, examples of desired nominations may include projects affiliated with housing and neighborhood improvements, education, health and recreation, transportation, community participation, arts and culture, safety, disaster response, innovative regional approaches, and economic development agencies. The jury will take asset and staff size into consideration to ensure that the award recipients reflect a diversity of foundations.

Other details include:

- The award will be given to ten foundations for completed or ongoing initiatives that are executed in partnership with any local, regional, or federal government. Recognizing the unique challenges, opportunities, and promise present in rural America, at least two awards will be awarded to rural initiatives. The initiative submitted should have been either (a) completed between January 2023 and January 2024, or (b) if ongoing, in effect since at least January 2023.
- Award winners from 2023 are ineligible to apply for one year following their award.
- The award will recognize foundations that have navigated cross-sector relationships and built a stronger effort than either partner could have produced alone.

Criteria for Judging

Six key criteria will drive the review process. Specific questions for each can be found on the application form.

I. Strength of the Cross-Sector Partnership (35 points). The submission should demonstrate that the project utilized a cross-sector partnership to implement a successful initiative and must provide a detailed account of how partners were involved in each stage of the initiative. Submissions that can show proof of formal public-philanthropic partnership efforts and demonstrated changes and improvements are highly desired.

II. Locally Driven Outcomes (20 points). The submission should discuss the place-based nature of the initiative, the initiative's results, and the connection between the initiative's inputs and community outcomes, including how these outcomes have been or will be measured. In particular, the submission should emphasize solutions driven by local needs and active community engagement.

III. Partnerships to Advance HUD's Strategic Goals (15 points). HUD's Strategic Goals are:

- Strategic Goal 1: Support Underserved Communities
- Strategic Goal 2: Ensure Access to and Increase the Production of Affordable Housing
- Strategic Goal 3: Promote Homeownership
- Strategic Goal 4: Advance Sustainable Communities

IV. Lasting Impact (10 points). The submission should show how the effort has created and will maintain a lasting impact in the community.

V. Evidence-Based Approach and/or Innovations (10 points). The submission should discuss how innovation shows up in this project or in the partnership. To what extent has an evidence-based approach been used to address community needs? Please include supporting documentation to this effect, including letters of support, evaluation conclusions, and/or press coverage.

VI. Transferability (10 points). The submission should suggest how the program can provide useful, prescriptive measures for other communities similarly situated to replicate or adapt.

Availability of Bonus Points

Bonus points are available for meeting the following additional criteria:

- Council on Foundations members in good standing in 2023 will receive 5 bonus points.
- Community foundations in good standing with the National Standards for U.S. Community Foundations® will receive 3 bonus points.
- Foundations with proof of current compliance with any accrediting body related to organizational performance or excellence will receive a maximum of 3 bonus points.

Eligibility

The competition is open to all charitable foundations, including Council members and nonmembers. For purposes of this award program, a foundation must qualify as either a community foundation or community trust under IRC §§ 501(c)(3), 509(a)(2) and Sec. 1.170A-9(f) of the Treasury Regulations, a private foundation under IRC §§ 501(c)(3) and 509(a) including private operating foundations under 170(b)(1) (F), or a corporate giving program, and must have a primary purpose of (a) supporting charitable activities by making grants to unrelated organizations or institutions or to individuals for scientific, educational, cultural, religious, or other charitable purposes or (b) engaging in direct charitable activities or programs. Additionally, the foundation must be properly organized in and maintain a primary place of business in the United States. Foreign citizens can participate as employees of an entity that is properly organized in the United States and maintains a primary place of business in the country. Eligibility for an award is contingent upon fulfilling all requirements set forth herein. HUD will not select an individual or entity as a winner that has an active exclusion in the System for Award Management (www.sam.gov) or if there exist any actions that are in tension with the mission of HUD.

Judging and Award Ceremony

Judging for the Secretary's Award for Public-Philanthropic Partnerships will take place in March 2024 by a panel of judges. The award presentation will occur at the Department of Housing and Urban Development in Washington, DC in July 2024. Each winning initiative will be highlighted in the award presentation from the stage and prominently featured in publications by HUD and the Council. HUD and the Council will assist winners in efforts to feature the winning initiatives in appropriate local media markets and social media outlets.

Submission Information and Requirements

All entries must be completed using the fillable PDF form and submitted by an eligible foundation via e-mail to HUDaward@cof.org. The fillable PDF form will be available at <https://www.cof.org/page/hud-secretarys-award-public-philanthropic-partnerships> and https://www.huduser.gov/portal/about/Pub_Phil_Intro.html. The deadline for completing submission is 11:59 p.m. PT, Friday, February 23, 2024.

The electronic submission should include the following information:

I. The Official Application Form. A 2024 Secretary's Award for Public-Philanthropic Partnerships application form that includes the title of the entry, name and contact information of the person from the foundation submitting the application and who serves as the point of contact for the award application, and information about the foundation and project.

II. An Executive Summary About the Applicant and the Project. A brief summary of the initiative (200 to 300 words) that can be used for publication and includes profile data on the foundation applicant, including the initiative's goals, objectives, partners, public funding sources, and results, as applicable.

III. A Project Summary. This should include an explanation of how the applicant meets the eligibility and award criteria (600 to 800 words).

IV. Support Letter. One letter or statement in support of the initiative. A letter or statement should offer support for the value of the effort and may not be written by the foundation under consideration. Comments from partners (including the government partner), residents, donors, and other local stakeholders familiar with or knowledgeable about the nominated effort are encouraged. The letter must accompany the application via e-mail and can be addressed to the applicant or the panel of judges.

V. Images. If selected winners will need to submit three to five digital images (.jpg format). All images should be at least 2 MB and 300 dpi or higher resolution to be suitable for printing on posters. Images should supplement the content in the application. Submit only digital images that are not copyrighted and may be reproduced by the Council on Foundations or HUD without a fee, charge, or copyright infringement.

VI. Supporting Documentation. One additional item (not to exceed five pages) may be included as an attachment. The supporting item must be e-mailed with the application. The supporting item could take the form of a review of the implementation effort, analysis of the results, newspaper clipping, editorial, etc. (The supplemental item must be submitted via e-mail with the fillable PDF application form as a Word document, PDF file, or Web link.)

Additional Information

The award committee's procedures prohibit any communication with judges on behalf of an entry. Such communication is cause for disqualification. All applications become the property of the Council on Foundations.

No registration fee is required for submitting an entry.
