HUD USER's Research Finder

The Research Finder lists HUD research publications spanning the major fields of housing and urban development. Publications are available as free downloads or in print for a nominal cost.

Data Sets from HUD USER

Data sets generated and displayed by PD&R-sponsored efforts include the American Housing Survey, HUD Median Family Income Limits, Fair Market Rents, Low-Income Housing Tax Credit Data, GIS Maps, and Infographics. All data sets are available as free downloads.

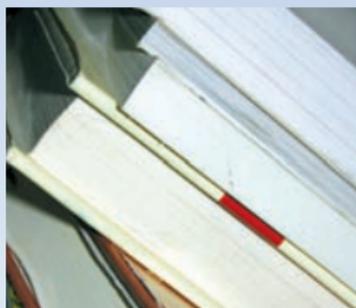

HUD USER Periodicals

- Cityscape, published three times a year, is PD&R's journal of policy development and research.
- Evidence Matters, available in print and online, presents objective, unbiased views, based on research findings about key housing and urban development topics to inform advocates, state and local policymakers, Congress, and researchers on future policy directions.
- ResearchWorks is PD&R's e-newsletter that bridges housing research and best practices for those engaged in building strong, economically viable communities.
- U.S. Housing Market Conditions is a quarterly report that provides the latest nationwide housing statistics.

All periodicals are available from HUD USER at no cost.

HUD USER's Bibliographic Database

The Bibliographic Database contains annotated citations to research reports, articles, books, and data sources in housing policy, building technology, economic development, urban planning, and other related fields.

HUD USER eLists

HUD USER maintains four electronic mailing lists to keep you informed of new housing research releases, as well as data sets and events of interest to the housing community. Sign up for these free eLists on the HUD USER website (www.huduser.org).

Social Networking

The HUD USER Forum enables information exchange among housing and community development researchers, academics, policymakers, and practitioners. Follow HUD USER on Twitter or become a fan on Facebook for updates on the latest information posted to the website.

HUD Secretary's Awards

Each year, the HUD Secretary, in collaboration with various associations, recognizes outstanding achievements in housing and urban development by presenting awards for the following categories: Housing and Community Design, Excellence in Historic Preservation, Opportunity and Empowerment, and Best in American Living.

HUD USER Web Store

The HUD USER Web Store makes more than 900 housing-related reports and data sets available in print and on CD-ROM, respectively. Order online or by phone by contacting HUD USER at 1-800-245-2691.

HUD USER eBookstore

HUD USER offers some of our most popular housing publications in various eBook-friendly formats. Browse the current selection and download titles of interest for free.

HUD USER Help Desk

The HUD USER Help Desk staff is available Monday through Friday from 8:30 am to 5:00 pm at 1-800-245-2691 or via email at helpdesk@huduser.org to provide assistance.

The Office for International and Philanthropic Innovation (IPI)

IPI provides expert resources and a venue for staff and partners to access the best available evidence, innovations, and lessons from the philanthropic and international housing sectors.

Regulatory Barriers/ Sustainability Clearinghouse (RBC)

RBC collects and disseminates information on the creation and maintenance of affordable housing and sustainable communities. Built around an easy-to-use, searchable database, RBC is a web-based compendium of state and local laws, regulations, and policies that support the development, maintenance, and affordability of America's housing stock, as well as those which promote sustainable development.

RBC provides monthly updates on state & local strategies that promote affordable housing and sustainable development. Subscribers receive our Breakthroughs e-newsletter and Strategy of the Month eList, highlighting real world success stories and best practices.
